

For Immediate Release

Contact:

Barbara Adams, President, CareerPro Global, Inc.
(800) 471-9201
badams@careerprocenter.net

CAREERPRO GLOBAL INC. RECEIVES CAREERS INDUSTRY HONORS

Macon, GA (October 31, 2011) CareerPro Global, Inc., (CPG) of Macon, GA, a 25-year old resume and career coaching company was recently honored with five industry nominations and two wins at the 2011 Career Directors International (CDI) Summit held October 20-22 in Savannah, GA. The annual event hosted by industry standards leader CDI gathers the brightest resume and career industry contributors to share best practices and honor top talent.

CareerPro Global professional writers Lee Kelley, Fran Sheridan, Joseph Tatner and Nancy Segal were nominated in the Best Military Conversion Resume category and CPG President Barbara Adams was nominated on behalf of the company for a Career Innovator Award. Lee Kelley took top honors in his category and Barbara Adams won the Career Innovator Award for implementing the demanding International Organization for Standardization (ISO) ISO 9001:2008 certification to CPG bringing quality assurance and accountability in a first of its kind program in the career services/resume writing industry.

Mr. Kelley, a former military officer and Bronze Star recipient with combat experience is a noted writer with numerous publications in diverse outlets including the New York Times. He said, "It's gratifying for me to be recognized in the important area of military conversion resumes since helping former military members successfully change careers is vital to our economy and personally rewarding at the same time." Mr. Kelley is also well regarded for his work in assisting clients with complex Senior Executive Service resumes and applications.

Ms. Adams, founder of CareerPro Global said, "The Career Innovator Award goes to my team of experts who worked tirelessly for several years in achieving the challenging ISO certification and to all the writers who fastidiously adhere to the tight standards we employ for quality." She added, "We felt it was vital to the industry to set the pace in establishing a recognized standard for excellence and I'm happy to say that we passed our first annual ISO recertification with flying colors."

The 2011 CDI awards add to the growing stable of industry recognition for CPG and Mr. Kelley, Ms. Adams and the other nominees join an existing staff of industry award nominees and winners. CPG and staff members are also authors of three popular career books and routinely publish career and resume advice to federal, military and professional job seekers in a variety of printed and online forums.

###

About CareerPro Global:

In business for over two decades, CareerPro Global Inc. develops professional resumes and provides career counseling with a focus on military transition and federal executives. The company's professional writing team is strategically deployed across the U.S., with expert resume writers in several states. With headquarters in Macon, Georgia, the company has produced over 50,000 resumes and provides educational material and guidance for its clients and the industry. For more information, call (800) 471-9201 or go online at www.careerproplus.com

About Career Directors International:

Career Directors International (CDI) is a professional association committed to delivering industry innovation and unlimited potential for career professionals. CDI places top priority on introducing new member opportunities in education, connection and empowerment. Their global membership spans all career disciplines and includes resume writers, career coaches and counselors, job developers, recruiters, outplacement specialists, HR practitioners and other specialists from private practice, civil service, academia and military. For more information contact CDI at (321) 752-0442 or on the Web at www.careerdirectors.com.